

Working Across Cultures: Ethical Perspectives for Intercultural Management (Issues in Business Ethics)

Working Across Cultures was the general theme of the 9th Annual Conference of the European Business Ethics Network (EBEN), which took place at the Lufthansa Training Center, Seeheim, Germany, in September 1996. Representatives from both the business scene and different academic disciplines discussed perspectives for ethical solutions of managing dilemmas in a world of cultural diversity, where differing norms and values are at the heart of all activities of multinational corporations. Among the multifaceted discussion, three special focuses attracted particular attention. The first highlight was set by Peter Duncan, CEO of Shell Germany, who addressed the conference theme with the background of Shells dramatic experiences in the Brent Spar and Nigeria affairs. Second, renowned experts discussed the problem of international corruption, which was significantly introduced with a keynote address by Hon. Frene Ginwala, Speaker of the South African Republics Parliament. Third, the role of values in corporate transformation was debated from the perspective of leading European firms. This book is a collection of the most interesting and topical presentations of the conference, which should be of interest for business and academic people who are concerned with ethical advances in intercultural business activities.

She has an interest in the environment and passionate about the community and how we are living on this planet. Sitting on the board of "Living Green" and the steering committee of "Transition Barrie", she is well advised about the concerns and problems facing residents. "I believe that I can bring a lot to the table in terms of our experience in the Barrie and surrounding area Real Estate market, our knowledge of the Community and our study of the Environment." An award winning Realtor and "Hall of Fame" award of excellence. "I will only take on the new business that I can handle" "I am not interested in stock piling listings with the hopes that, by the law of averages, some will sell." Karen is hard working, dedicated and determined to provide the best possible service to her clients and customers. Why use a "Green Realtor"? There are already signs that in the near future energy costs will continue to rise. When shopping for a new home, it is imperative that buyers compare homes based on the normal criteria of location, size and functionality along with the homes potential for energy efficiency by concentrating on insulation, type of windows, furnace, roof, age of the structure, type of wiring, type of plumbing, lot grading and the potential to grow your own food should you desire. We can make this process easier for you with our knowledge of the area builders over a long period of time and our training on efficiency and energy efficient products. We can point out periods of rapid growth when homes in our city were not well constructed and were rendered very poor on the scale of energy efficiency. We can point out builders that meet LEED standards or Green standards and have built to the highest levels of efficiency. Quick Search Search Featured Property RE/MAX Chay Realty Inc.
